Profile

Christopher Mitchem is a public affairs specialist with Bose Public Affairs Group's state and local government relations team. In his role, Christopher supports clients from a wide-range of industries by researching issues and policy matters and developing strategies to advocate for client priorities.

Christopher previously worked as an advocacy and communications intern for the Indiana Hospital Association. In this role, he was responsible for conducting policy research, in addition to crafting messaging for key stakeholders and creating content for social media.

Prior to his experience at the Indiana Hospital Association, Christopher interned with Bose Public Affairs Group and provided support to the firm's professionals and clients during the Indiana legislative session. Christopher also served as a communications intern for the Indiana House of Representatives.

Education

Christopher is a graduate of Indiana University's School of Liberal Arts, where he earned a bachelor's degree in journalism and public relations with a minor in business.
