Profile

Michael Nirenberg is a public affairs specialist at Bose Public Affairs Group in Washington, D.C. He manages federal grants research programs and policy development for municipal, infrastructure and healthcare clients. In addition, he is responsible for attending congressional hearings and briefings, drafting letters and policy papers, managing web-related projects and assisting with a variety of client matters.

Prior to joining the firm, he interned at Green Apple Accreditation of Children's Services in Davie, Florida. He focused on crafting political development strategies for increasing state-by-state expansion for accreditation certification and presenting funding requests to state governments.

As a student at McGill University, Nirenberg was heavily involved in a variety of organizations, including the Political Science Students' Association, the McGill Senate and as president of Democrats Abroad.

Education

Nirenberg earned his Bachelor of Arts degree in political science and minors in North American history and philosophy from McGill University in Montréal, Québec.
